DANIELSON

The opposition of Cosmer A. Young, Danielson, representative from this town in the legislature, to the referendum on the prohibition bill stirred up widespread discussion in Danielson on Thursday.

N. A. Witter of Providence was a visitor with friends here on Thursday. Henry H. Starkweather has purchased of C. H. Bacon the store building facing Depot square and next to the Danielson Trust company building. This property was originally the Methodist Episcopal church.

There is to be a union Good Friday service at the Methodist church this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Byron C. Jordan of Providence spent Thursday in Danielson.

Five tons very highest quality hay for sale. Harry W. Clark—adv.

Mrs. Marinda C. B. Robinson has left Danielson and hereafter will make her home at 161 Green street, Hudson, N. Y. Mrs. Robinson is spending a week in Boston before going to Hudson.

There will be special Good Friday services at the afternoon and tonight at St. James' church. An unusually heavy amount of mail matter has been passing through the Danielson post office during the past few weeks.

Preparations were completed on Thursday for the big Tag lay that will be launched Saturday in the interest of the Welcome Home fund. High school girls will direct the campaign, which will extend to every part of the town of Killingly and is expected to raise hundreds of dollars. "Give until it hurts" will be the slogan.

Victor Perreault, member of the 1922 infantry, is at his home here on leave from Camp Devens, his first visit to the old home town since he went out in September, 1917. He has been through practically all of the terrific campaigning in which the Yankee division engaged, yet escaped without serious injury, though he was in real active service in the front for many months. Perreault formerly was a member of the Connecticut National Guard.

Many attended the auction sale, conducted by J. Carl Witter Thursday of the personal property of Millard F. Jordan, who was killed a few weeks ago when struck by a motor truck, in an accident at Davidsville. The sale included an unusual amount of tools, chains, wagons, wagon equipment, of which Mr. Jordan held quantities.

School street, from near the central fire station to the place of the Jacobs Manufacturing company, was turned into a raging river during the early hours of Thursday morning, while an unusual downpour of rain was continuing. The drainage system was insufficient to care for the unusual rush of water, which poured into the street from several directions and filled it, from curb to curb, with a fast rushing torrent. "Collars of homes along the street were filled with water, the school street garage was flooded and down near the Jacobs plant the rushing water cutting across the street toward the Center street broke dug a new channel for itself at the north end of the home occupied by Bert Geer. The street surface was washed severely. The storm was one of the heaviest of its kind that has visited this section in a long time.

Danielson will be a scene of bustling and fluttering flags Friday, May 16, the date set for the big Welcome Home celebration. Many contracts for the decoration of business blocks and stores and residences already have been placed, and the indications are that many more will enter into the spirit of the occasion in that degree. The line of march, which has not been announced, will take the big parade through the principal thoroughfares of Danielson. There is a possibility that Dack park may be decorated as it never has been before. The mayor has a proposition for turning into a fairland. What will be done in this depends in considerable degree on the liberality of the public at tomorrow's Tag day, for it is going to cost money to do all of the things the committee would like done for the boys.

There does not seem to be any foundation for the rumor that has gained circulation about town that there is a case of sleeping sickness on the West side. Physicians who have looked about the matter, who have never seen a case in this section, and they did not believe there was any ground for the report.

Superintendent K. Howard Burdick, of the People's Light and Power company, and Charles Lowry, head electrician at the plant of the Connecticut mills, were buried about the face and head, and quite severely about midnight Wednesday while they were working on a transformer at the mill. The lights had gone out on account of some trouble with the electrical system and Super Burdick whose attention was called to the matter, and Mr. Lowry went to work on the transformer, in which an explosion occurred while they were working upon it. Superintendent Burdick was buried about the mouth, face and head, losing half his hair, and Mr. Lowry was similarly buried, though Mr. Lowry did not lose so much hair, as he was working with his hat on.

The difficulty which the injured men were trying to remedy prevented the operation of a big mill during the latter part of the night, but it was in operation again Thursday morning. Mr. Burdick, who received an electrical burn about two weeks ago, and Mr. Lowry were confined to their homes on Thursday.

A Small Bottle of "Dandierine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Dandierine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair, but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Dandierine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

Legg, of Trinity church, Norwalk, formerly pastor of Danielson, officiating, assisted by Rev. W. E. Darby, pastor of the Methodist church at Moosup. Burial was in Westfield cemetery. PUTNAM

About a 50-foot length of the high wall on the southerly side of Pomfret collapsed during the heavy rainstorm in the early hours of Thursday morning and slid into the mill yard of the Putnam Woolen company. This is a section of the wall that was mentioned in Thursday's Bulletin as being in dangerous condition.

It is believed that the heavy rainstorm and the excavations that have been going on in Pomfret street may have had something to do with the early collapse of the wall, which was in weakened condition, anyway, and probably would have fallen anyway within a few months.

A whole section of the sidewalk went out with the wall, another section of which seems on the verge of toppling over. There is a big crack clear out into the street along the endangered section, which will have to be taken down if it does not fall down. The collapse of the wall makes urgent consideration of measures pertaining to the rebuilding of it. Corporation Counsel Charles L. Torrey found Thursday in searching out old records that the following is mentioned in the minutes of a town meeting of Putnam held Aug. 25, 1876:

1. Upon petition of E. A. Wheelock and others, taxpayers of the town of Putnam, showing that the state highway between Putnam and Pomfret at a point near the office of the Putnam Woolen company on the southerly side of said road, is now about 40 feet in width in condition for use; that it gradually narrows for a distance westerly of about 12 rods to about 30 feet in width and then widens again for about 12 rods, more or less, to a point opposite the first tenement house of said Putnam Woolen company to about 40 feet in width. The petitioners aver that the road ought to be cut down and widened to a uniform width of 40 feet between said points, and petition the town to make such alteration and improvement.

2. Voted, That the town widen the highway on the south side between the office of the Putnam Woolen company and their tenement houses to a uniform width of 40 feet and support about 300 feet of the same by a bank wall, the Putnam Woolen company to pay so much of the expense as shall exceed $1,500.

Mr. Torrey was investigating on Thursday to determine whether the state highway department can be obligated to meet the cost of reconstructing the wall, which supports a section of trunk line highway. A contractor who looked the wall over Thursday afternoon said that it could not be put in proper condition for less than $4,500.

The 128th annual meeting of the Windham County Medical society was held at the Putnam inn Thursday, the president, Dr. Ernest R. Pike of Woodstock, presiding. Physicians were in attendance from a number of towns of

No More Rheumatism

Torturing Pains and Swollen Joints Vanish When Rheuma is Used.

At last a real remedy for rheumatism. And a good one it must be when Lee & Osmond and good druggists everywhere sell it on the no-cure-no-pay basis.

Rheumatism should halt the news with great rejoicing, for it is surely a remarkable remedy and has a record of almost unbelievable cures. Read what J. F. Oliver of Albany, Ga., says about it: "I had severe rheumatism for two years, and tried every medicine offered for rheumatism, but without success. I was treated at one of the best Southern sanatoriums, and if I improved any I did not realize it. I am a non-smoker, and had secured a pass to Hot Springs, Ark., to take treatment about that time I saw Rheuma advertised and concluded to try it. I abandoned my trip, took three bottles, and was as well as ever. I would not take hundred thousand dollars for what Rheuma has done for me."

If you have rheumatism in any form, don't delay—try Rheuma today. A large bottle is not expensive, and your money back if it does not give you quick and joyful relief.
